Editors Describe Visit

The recent visit of the eastern weekly newspaper editors to Strathmore, on their way back from the C.W.N.A. convention at Vancouver, has resulted in a great deal of publicity for Strathmore and the district, and almost every day we are receiving exchanges containing descriptive matter of the visit.

The following account, from the Bismark News-Tribune, of Bismark, Ontario, is typical, and shows with what amount of interest the editorial party looked over the town and farm, and the impressions some of them were able to crowd into an hour and a quarter's trip.

A Quick Reception

The stop at Strathmore, thirty miles east of Calgary was not on our itinerary, but was arranged for the newspaper party by the officials of the C.P.R., and was one of the most pleasant surprises of the whole trip. From the looks of things the people at this place must have got the idea that the Prince of Wales was coming back to the West. When the train stopped at the station the platform was crowded with residents, the town houses had been decorated with huge dry and was rendering lively selections and a school orchestra's chorus was lined up and "Oh Canada" was being lustily sung. Few less to say the members of our party went hurriedly out of the train, and found that to make hospitality doubly great the people were bent on having the inner man and pretty girls, sweet pastries, sandwiches through the crowd.

The special train was held at Strathmore for one hour and twenty minutes to give the members of the association an opportunity to see a big western farm where those necessities of life, milk, butter, eggs, beef, poultry, wool, mutton, and bacon are produced on a large scale. This farm is operated by the Department of Natural Resources of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and is known as the Demonstration or Supply Farm.

The town council cooperated with the company in entertaining the visitors, and supplied thirty-five cars to take them to and from the farm.

The Poultry

The party first inspected the Poultry Department of the farm, where they saw all phases of poultry production in operation. The thick manure about them, and is added to and reduced almost daily through disposing of day old chicks at reasonable prices to poultry raisers in the West, and by the sale of fowls and manure to Canadian Pacific Hotels and Dining Car Department. This flock is of high merit both as to type and laying qualities. Rhode Island Red and Barred Rock hens are competing in the Dominion Egg Laying Competition at Lethbridge, where the Rhode Island Red is second at present, and the Barred Rock pen holds the first place in Alberta at this competition.

The plant is maintained in order to insure a dependable supply of high class nonferrous eggs throughout the year, especially during the winter months when naturally fresh eggs are scarce. Egg shipments are handled from this farm in December, January and February, and the annual revenue from the plant is larger than from the average nesting in grain. Poultrymen will appreciate the merit of this flock as to winter laying qualities when it is stated that the daily average for December, in 1920 was 58 per cent.

The visitors next saw a portion of the milking herd of over two pure bred Holstein cows, which includes a number of Canadian born producers. The average production of the herd last year was below pounds of milk, and of which went to a very efficient grade (the C. P. B. herd) and dining cars.

Girls Club Convention

(By Miss E. M. Fairlie)

I shall now endeavor to give a few ideas of some work our girls might take up, so that we might do what others have done and also endeavor to lead the way to newer ideas in work for the betterment of others.

Idea for Club Meets

Many of the clubs have at first, their meetings disorganized. On club had cake making and telling the cake. While the cake was being baked the girls were instructed in the correct way to set a table. Other novel idea was that Roll Call be answered by giving some favorite recipe, quotation from favorite author, by each member exhibiting an article made out of a flour sack.

Another idea was that a certain amount of money be given to each girl to see which could make the most out of that amount.

Various clubs have taken up sewing and one held a button hole contest. The Department are sending out bulletins to the girls club on how to make four undergarments with the hope that all clubs will fall in line.

Others are taking up bakery out of the house and make many nice rolls and tarts for sale. Bookwork has also been included.

Social evenings are suggested and also evening in which the study of the work of a certain author may be taken up. One club took up Miles Standish and later dramatized it, making it a great success. Girls may get up accounts of favorite authors, have club papers or magazines which they make, and the club singing.

Another idea is to have a club book, the supervisor to write the first chapter and each girl to add a chapter. Learn to tell good stories and have girls tell stories at the meeting. For instance, by having an Indian Legend Programme in which each girl shall tell an Indian story of Alberta or Canada, whichever may be preferred. Discussion of current events at the various meetings is a good idea.

Games Recommended

To promote athletic games, roller ball, volleyball and dancing are suggested. By dances, folk dances and country dances popular to each country.

A good book suggested is that of "Cool Sharpe" with 100 directions to the music for each dance. This can be obtained from Toronto, London, England. In England the various girls clubs have country dance clubs and compete with various clubs in prize dancing. In learning these dances it is necessary to have an instructor who knows and can teach the dances.

In the coming times the girls have a daily routine of drill and organized play. Basket ball and basketball are strongly urged.

First Aid Knowledge

Each girl should have a thorough knowledge of first aid. One club in their list had each girl carry a bandage sack with full equipment. The officer inspected each landscape before starting to see that everything was in order.

In these lectures they also take up nature study, learn to name new birds, flowers, butterflies, make new feelings. Every girl should have a table.

Keep a club scrap-book of club outings as these are of historic value in the neighborhood, and are a record of the members of the club. Let it in the club snapshots, newspaper clippings, etc.

The secretary of the Women's Institute requested that reports sent be made more informed and more in the form of a friendly letter including short photo of the team and hikes.

SEVERE HAIL STORM

75 DAMAGE CLAIMS IN BOW VALLEY MUNICIPALITY

Hail has taken a severe toll of the crops throughout the Bow Valley this week. On Monday a hailstorm passed through north of the town, and about twenty five farmers in Bow Valley Municipality put in hail claims.

About seven o'clock on Tuesday evening a big storm swept through from the north-west, and did a large amount of damage around the district. The storm was somewhat erratic in its course, and widely separated crops were hit, and those in between left untouched. The storm is reported also to have caused great damage in Gleichen. There was a very heavy rainfall for about twenty minutes after Tuesday's storm, .45 inch falling in that space of time.

The hail damage has caused a great deal of disappointment to many, as their crops had been a very good recovery during the past six weeks. In most cases hail insurance is carried in varying amounts, by the farmers affected.

G.W.V.A.

At a meeting of Strathmore Great War Veterans Association held in the new Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, plans for the holding of the new ball were discussed.

An entertainment committee was appointed to look after the renting of the hall, and to arrange for dancing, concerts, etc. It is probable that dances will be held at least every second Friday, but when other organizations wish to use the hall, the Veterans will make way for them. Arrangements will also be made for the renting of moving pictures in the hall.

The Veterans will have a big building to overcome, and subscriptions are still required to complete the building. Until the building is completed and furnished according to estimate, dances, etc., will go towards paying for the hall. Once the building is completed and paid for it will be run practically at cost, as it is intended to be a real community hall.

We very much regret to report that Anne was visited by a destructive hail storm accompanied by wind a few days ago cutting down the crops in many parts of the district. It takes a fairly strong will and determination from getting discouraged in the cultivation of the soil on account of drought or hail storms. It seems this life is "one damn thing after another."

From next week forward the Stand will be exclusively home and we will endeavor every week to give our readers an eight page bulletin and trust that we will receive the necessary support necessary to warrant this.

Toronto, Ont.—A large shipment of American machines to Palestine is being made by Messrs. Massey Company of this city. An amount amounting to about $100,000 has been received from Kingston, Jamaica, for road machinery. The result of the shipment of 180,000 of the machines which was made to its same destination in the spring.

Montreal, Que.—A report received from London, England, states that Canada's share of reparations will amount to $100,000,000, or 15 per cent of the British total. This sum amounts to one-fifth of Canada's national debt. The division of the British share is made on the basis of contribution, population, and the loss of shipment by the various portions of the Empire.

Town Council Meeting

The regular meeting of Strathmore Town Council was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening. Mayor Butler, Councillors Anderson, Tompkins, French, Taylor and Bell were present.

A list of those liable was read under the tax recovery act was read and approved.

A license was granted to the B.C. Cafe to operate a rooming house and cafe.

A new nuisance ground has been secured at a point north of town, and further removed from the main road than the present one.

Avenue to be Parked

A bylaw was read regulating auto traffic in the streets of Strathmore, and requested that autos be parked close to the sidewalks and at an angle of 45 degrees from the curb; also that no auto of make or model be kept clear. All cars are to keep to the right in passing intersections.

Intersections of this bylaw are punishable with a fine of not over $25.

A copy of the bylaw is published in our advertising column.

Start Policemen

The Council decided to put a solid post at the centre of Second Street and Second Avenue to ensure that all cars keep to the right.

Winnipeg, Manitoba—No difficulty will be experienced in marketing the Canadian wheat crop this year despite the wheat restrictions imposed by the United States on Canadian wheat, according to Dr. McGill, secretary of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Dr. McGill intimated that English buyers were already in the market for vast quantities of Canadian grain and that the United States will have to buy large quantities in any event.

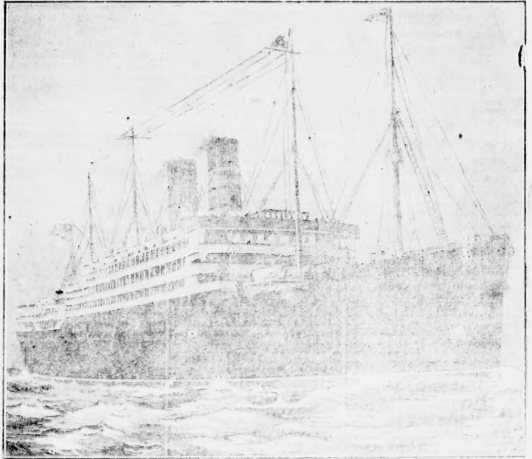

The official count of the recent provincial election for the Strathmore constituency gives Mr. John C. Buckler a majority of exactly 500 over his opponent, Mr. Harry Scott.

Regina, Sask.—J. W. Bromch, a farmer at Boharm, Sask., has developed a strain of fall wheat which he claims will revolutionize the growing of fall wheat in Western Canada. He has experimented with the new cereal for three years. The mature strain had a reddish appearance, similar to Marquis and gives promise of an exceptionally heavy yield from the 25 acres he has under crop this year.

Largest Canadian Atlantic Ship

THE EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND.

The largest liner ever assigned to the St. Lawrence route is soon to enter when it goes west. The ship's initial appearance at Quebec according to its announcement, would make it the largest liner ever to be seen in the ship yards there.

The new Empress of Scotland is a 25,000 gross ton liner. The first run for the service, under the Captain, is expected to arrive at Quebec during the first week in August.

The C. P. R. purchased this liner, New York. She is a first class, and will also handle with her, the St. Lawrence route, and will be the largest liner ever to be seen in the ship yards there.

"No." The millionaire still smiled imperceptibly. "Really, my dear Ned, I'm disappointed in you. You don't seem to realize the possibilities of this thing."

"Oh, yes, I do—perhaps better than you, old man," retorted the other with an expressive glance.

"Oh, come, Ned listen! I've got some things in Hillerton. I never saw them, and they never saw me. I'm going to give them a tidy little lot of money apiece, and then have the fun of watching them spend it. Any harm in that, especially as it's no one's business what I do with my money?"

"No, I suppose not—if you can carry such a wild scheme through."

"I can, I think. Am I going to be John Smith?"

"Nice distinctive name!"

"I chose a color as an on-purpose. No going to be a colorless person, you see."

"Oh! And—do you think Mr. Stanley G. Fulton, who has the papers and magazines from the Atlantic to the Pacific, can hide that face behind a colorless John Smith?"

"Maybe not. But I can hide it behind a nice little close-cropped beard. The millionaire stroked his smooth chin reflectively."

"Humph! How large is Hillerton?"

"Eight or ten thousand, I'm told."

"H'm. And you're—business in Hillerton, that will enable you to have the observing fly on your coat's wings?"

"Yes, I've thought that all out, too. And that's another brilliant stroke. I'm going to be a genealogist. I'm going to be at work finding the Blue-dell family—the name is Blaisdell."

"I'm writing a book which will contain the collection of an endless amount of data. Now how about that fly's chance of observation? H'm."

"Mighty poor, it's dead-swatted—and that's what he'll be. New England housewives are crazy on flies, I understand."

"Well, I'll risk this one."

"You poor fellow!" There were exclamation and amusement in the lawyer's eyes, but there also were mock sympathy in his voice.

"To think I've known you all these years, and never suspected it, Fulton!"

"The man who knows me twenty miles knows still smaller imperceptibly."

"But I'm not crazy. And really I'm interested in genealogy, too, and I've been thinking for some time I'd go digging about the roots of my ancestral tree. I have dug a little, in a few years gone. My mother was a Blaisdell, you know. Her grandfather was a brother to some of these Hillerton Blaisdells; and I really am interested in collecting old data. So that's all straight. I shall be telling no lies. And think of the opportunity it gives me! Besides, I shall try to be heard of one of them. I've decided that."

"Upon my word, a pretty little scheme."

"Yes, I knew you'd appreciate it, the more you thought about it. Mr. Stanley G. Fulton, like every other fellow I know."

"With a diddled gesture the lawyer brushed this aside."

"You mind telling me how you happened to think of it, yourself?"

"Not a bit. It was a little booklet got sent by a Trust. I saw it. It sounds like it!"

"Oh, then, did it suggest anything to you?"

"This, I'll admit, but they did suggest that, if you were fearful as to the way your heirs would handle their inheritance, you could create a trust fund for your benefit while you were living. And then watch the way the beneficiaries spent the income, as well as the way the trust fund itself was managed. In this way you could observe the effects of your gifts and at the same time be able to change them if you didn't like results. But that gave me an idea. I've just devised it. That's all. I'm going to make my cousin a little rich, and when which, if any of them, can stand being very rich."

"But the money, man! How are you going to draw a hundred thousand dollars into these men's hands, and expect to get away without an investigation as to the why and wherefore of such a singular proceeding?"

"That's where your part comes in," smiled the millionaire blandly. "Besides, to be accurate, one of the lapses—a pettifog one."

"Oh, indeed! So much the worse, maybe. But—And so this is where I come in, is it? Well, and suppose I refuse to come in?"

"Regrettably I shall have to employ another attorney."

"Humph! What?"

"That you won't refuse. The blue eyes opposite were still twinkling. "In the first place, you're my good friend."

"My best friend. You wouldn't let me see letting me start off on a wild goose chase like this without your guiding hand at the helm to see that I didn't come a cropper."

"Aren't you getting your metaphors a trifle mixed?" This time the lawyer's eyes were twinkling.

"Eh? What? Well, maybe. But I don't you get my meaning. Besides, what I want you to do is a mere routine of regular business, with you."

"It sounds like it. Routine, indeed!"

"But it's—your part. Listen. I'm off for South America, say, on an exploring tour. In your charge I leave certain papers with instructions that on the first day of the sixth month of my absence (I being unheard from), you are to open a certain envelope and act according to instructions within."

"Simple thing in the world, man. Now isn't it?"

"Very simple—as you put it."

"Well, meanwhile I'll start for South America, all course; and, as far as you're concerned, that ends it. If on the way, somewhere, I determine suddenly to change my mind, it is that of none of your affair. It may in a month or two, a quiet, inoffensive gentleman by the name of Smith arrives in Hillerton on the legitimate business of his own."

"But can you—Will they accept you without references or introductions?"

"Your Teeth"

By Rex Procter McGee, M.D., D.D.S., Editor of Oral Hygiene.

GRANDPARENTS
Copyright, 1921, by Rex Procter McGee.

To get the best out of education and health, you should begin with your grandchild and grandmother. It is always a little difficult to go back and change the habits of the old folks, but you might start with your own grandchildren's grandparents; that is one set of ancestors that you can control. Why not begin right now?

Heredity is an important factor in the development of the body—every part of the body.

The tendency is for a perfectly healthy organism to reproduce a perfectly healthy organism. If you start out right, you have a good chance to travel along without any of a struggle for health. If your race has allowed itself to go to pieces, you are the punishment.

It is your duty as to care for yourself that your children and grandchildren will not have constitutional weaknesses. You will make them susceptible to every infection that comes along.

If you allow your teeth to decay and allow the pulp to become exposed and die, you will start a line of systemic infection that is liable to undermine your health—not only your health but the health of those who should look back to you with pride as the one who transmitted rugged health and keen mind.

Do you wish your descendants to apologize for you as the weak link in their chain of ancestry? If you do not take care of every element of your health that is just what they will have to do.

Your mouth and your teeth are very important elements in your health.

Many of the factors of health are so open to inspection and so responsive to treatment and care that a host nearly every one of mouth diseases are somebody's fault.

Think of the future and take care of yourself.

A man always makes allowances for his wife, but not always in the form of a weekly stipend.

Splendid rains have fallen throughout the district. This will very much assist the crops, which are beginning to have a very much different appearance.

A fine crop of sunflowers is to be seen on Mr. Garfield's farm, N.E. of Keoma. To see the stand one would never think a drought had hit the district.

Mr. W. M. Galloway has been on a business trip to Edmonton.

The Misses Pickett's, of Victoria, B.C. are at present on an extended visit to their sister, Mrs. Bopark, and their aunt, Mrs. Galloway, at Keoma.

Last Monday week three Keoma people had to visit the infirmary doctor. At the end of last month the Keoma and Kathryn Sunday schools held their annual picnic on St. George's Island, Calgary.

Last Wednesday the junior baseball team from here visited Chestermere and played the team there. The score was 12-2 in favor of Keoma.

Without cutting commenced in this district last Friday.

The C.P.W.A., Keoma Local, held their meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Galloway. The weather was not very favorable.

A few people here are enjoying new potatoes, beans, and peas.

Major Lincoln's son is spending his holidays at Mr. J. G. Ranby's place, Town on the farm.

CARSELAND NOTES

The P. R. Club of Carceland will extend a hearty vote of thanks to all who by their assistance and support made the picnic of July 25, such a success. Especially does the Club feel indebted to the husbands of the various club members for their assistance with the sports and for conveying the victuals to the picnic grounds. Also to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Nelson for those of their barn for the dance, and to those who helped to bring the piano to Mr. Nelson's, and those who returned the instrument.

The sum realized by the club after paying all expenses amounts to $114, which will be paid on the picnic recently purchased by the Club.

Electric Power Scheme Proposed

Some time ago Strathmore Town Council took up the matter of securing hydro-electric power from Kananaskis Falls, through the Corporation of Calgary.

The Corporation was agreeable, but the Public Utilities Commission would not sanction the scheme on account of the expense, which was estimated at $45,000.

A similar scheme is now being proposed by the Municipalities between Calgary and Macleod. Most of these towns have already lighting plants of their own, but they feel that it would be more economical and more satisfactory to have a supply of hydro-electric power.

A meeting was held at High River on Wednesday which was attended by representatives from Okotoks, High River, Nanton, Staveland and Claresholm.

Mr. Robinson, of the Kananaskis Power Co., addressed the meeting and gave statistics to show that his company could supply electric current from their plant in Calgary to the various towns along the line at 1.05 or 2 cents per kilowatt. This price was contingent upon each municipality arranging to build its own transmission line, which would cost in the neighborhood of $1,500 per mile.

Each representative expressed his willingness to take power for his respective town, which would give them a twenty-four hour service, but they also expressed the utter impossibility of their town to finance building the transmission line at the present time.

After considerable discussion on various municipal problems which confront the average municipality, the delegation decided upon two things: To ask the Calgary Power Company to build the line and add the cost to the sale of current, and, as an alternative, the delegates decided to approach the members of the provincial constituencies of Okotoks, High River, Nanton and Claresholm, to see if any of them could be given by the government by the guaranteeing of bonds. To this end a committee was formed consisting of Mayors of High River, Nanton and Claresholm to prosecute this matter further.

This was the third meeting held at High River in connection with the hydro-electric and while the scheme is in its infancy it is a very live issue with the inhabitants of the town along this line as each representative felt that a great saving would be made by taking power from this company. Meanwhile the only obstacle to the successful carrying out of the plan is the difficulty in obtaining a line of credit for such work.

The proposed scheme would supply nine towns and villages along this line, namely: Okotoks, Okotoks Airdersyde, High River, Calgary, Parkland, Staveland, Claresholm, and Grande Prairie. Five of these towns have plants, which are all obsolete, and a great saving would be effected by taking hydro-electric power, such as prevails in portions of Ontario at the present time.

Mr. McKay, of the Calgary Power Co., also addressed the meeting, giving figures as to the cost of utilizing company, he said, would supply the towns current at three cents per kilowatt hour at Calgary, the cost of the transmission line, and also the cost to the towns for electric current. His line to be borne by the different municipalities.

The Strathmore Situation

The situation at Strathmore and Gleichen is similar to that in the territory south of Calgary, and both towns are anxious to see a scheme of this nature put through.

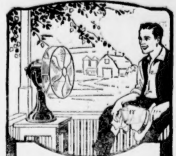

It would guarantee an abundance of power, and a twenty-four hour service. At the same time farmers along the power line would be able to get current, and it would thus be a decided benefit to the whole country.

The big trouble at present is the financial situation and the high rate that has to be paid for money borrowed, but there are signs of the money market loosening up and concerted action on the part of the towns and districts which require power would probably result in some action by the Government. The initial expense of wiring and poles would be high, but the scheme once in operation would cost very much less than the present methods of lighting by coal, gasoline, and kerosene plants.

Girls Club Convention

Mrs. Murray, the president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, in which she gave some excellent advice to the girls in her motherly way.

Girls have more dreams than problems, but in these conditions in the city we need to put a foundation. Go to work with a spirit of an athlete and have minds clear of a pure. Build up a foundation of a pure.

So much suffering comes from ignorance and lack of perspective. The unhappiness in the home is not the girls' problem; it is up to her to do her duty and leave the rest. Have respect for mother. Let her feel that home is her own, and do not try to usurp her place.

Every girl ought to have a knowledge of plain cooking, and how to dress a baby, and "be prepared" for her future place in the world.

AN "IF" FOR GIRLS

If you can dress to make yourself attractive, yet not make puffs and curls your chief delight.

If you can swim well, be strong and active, yet of the swimmer you are not too stout.

If you can dance without a crutch for dancing, play without giving play too strong a hold; enjoy that life of friends without romancing; care for the week, the holidays and the old.

If you can master French, Greek and Latin, and not acquire as well a priggish mind.

If you can feel the touch of silk and satin without despising calico and jeans.

If you can ply the saw and use the hammer; can do a man's work when need occurs; can sing when asked without excuse or stammer; can rise above unfriendly snubs and abuse.

If you can make good bread as well as fudge; can sew with skill, and have an eye for dust.

If you can be a friend and hold no grudges; a girl whom all will love because they trust.

If sometimes you shall meet and love another and make a home with faith and love; and when you see you are a loyal wife and mother.

You'll work out pretty nearly to my mind.

The plan that has been developed through the ages.

And with the best that life can hold in store.

You'll be, my girl, a pattern for the ages.

A woman whom the world will love before.

Vancouver and Victoria

Several weeks ago we published the introductory article of a series dealing with the C.W.N.A. journey to Vancouver. The following is a second instalment.

Through British Columbia

The journey from Edmonton to Vancouver gives to the tourist some idea of the immensity of Canada. For hundreds of miles we pass through valleys between huge mountains, with snow on their summits for your reward.

In the Rockies the signs of human habitation are infrequent, apart from the divisional points, but as we go further west dwellings are seen occasionally where some settlers have commenced on fruit farms. As the railway is comparatively new, having been completed only a year before the war, there is not a great deal of settlement on the upper reaches of the Thompson River, but there is no doubt that some day these valleys will support a large population. There is also no doubt that in the not far distant future the keys to the mineral wealth of this part of B.C. will be unlocked and the people of Canada will have a splendid asset in the lines of railways belonging to them which will convey these minerals to the seaboard or to the home manufacturers.

When the Thompson River joins the Fraser, we see the C.P.R. railway on the other side of the river, and the opposite banks of the river down to New Westminster. It makes the prairie dweller somewhat curious to find that the big trouble along the Fraser is that there is too much water, and that the big river is threatening to swallow its banks and inundate the fruit gardens.

Arrive at Vancouver

In thirty hours, travelling thus, after leaving Edmonton we arrive at salt water and disembark from the luxurious steel cars into the Vancouver station platform.

Vancouver, the Convention City for the great past, gave the newspaper men a swell time. The B.C. editors, who organized the reception, knew of a place where would suit the view the pressmen.

The Convention proceedings which were dealt with in a former issue. Outside the Convention the delegates were driven round the city and at 10 o'clock in the afternoon they were entertained to dinner by the Canadian Club. In the evening of the second day all motored down to Jurin's Beach, and a real old time clam-bake was provided.

We had no doubt as to what a clam was, but after once tasting them we recognized our old friend the Scotch cockle, and like Oliver Twist, we asked for more and got it. A military band in attendance drowned the sound of the descending clams, and a pierce (rope and fireworks) provided amusement after the clam-bake was over, for even the editorial appetite has its limitations.

It was a great evening, and everyone, whether they had previously been down to the salt water or not, thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Of course, there was something besides salt water at Vancouver, but to go into that at length would make rather dry reading for our readers.

Moderation in B.C.

Of course, British Columbia has adopted moderation as their rule in spiritual matters, but B.C. does not show any more drinks than "prohibition" Alberta. As a matter of fact, we did not see or indicate anything in B.C. The main difference in liquor between Alberta and B.C. is that in the newspaper said, was in the paper.

Beautiful Victoria

The day following the conclusion of the Convention we took a journey to Victoria and after winding through eighty miles of beautiful scenery, with not a trace of rough weather, we landed at Victoria. Arrived there, with a delegation of former Strathmore people were on hand, including Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. McElhines, Mr. and Mrs. Gately, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, and Joe Van Tighem. Of course, Joe will probably be back in Strathmore by the time this appears in print.

Points of Interest

Victoria is a beautiful city, and an ideal place for a holiday. Every home is embowered with roses and other flowers, the sea is on all sides and the climate is warm the year round.

The roads are perfect for motoring, and every little while the guests would stop to pick and eat strawberries. Edna Johnson was busy picking the strawberries to market when we descended on him. He is making a success of a fruit farm. Frank McElhines is developing what will be a fine fruit farm a few miles out of the city.

Other features of the Victoria trip included a visit to the famous Butchart gardens, a drive in flower beauty and of taste in landscape gardening. We were also shown through the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart.

The second largest telescope in the world was at the observatory, was one of the points of interest of the trip, and the visitors were given a look at a portion of the moon through it, and the details of its working were explained by the astronomer in charge.

We desire in this article to pay tribute to the hospitality reserved by the pressmen from the citizens of Vancouver and Victoria, also by the railway companies. The C.P.R. having granted the use of one of the main rooms of the Hotel Vancouver for the Convention and in other ways contributed to the enjoyment of the visit by the newspapermen, while the Government Railways did everything possible for the comfort of the editors and their ladies while travelling.

Another article describing the return journey, Victoria to Calgary, will appear in an early issue.

A Justifiable Postponement

The Directors of the Western Canada Colonization Association are to be commended for their action in postponing the actual work of bringing in settlers until they secure from the prairie provinces a reasonably firm view of the unoccupied lands available for sale. The Association will not be warranted in expending the large sum of money subscribed by its backers until it secures reasonable co-operation from the three Governments. It would be nothing short of a disaster if lack of action by the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Legislatures should prevent the use of this great fund for the general advantage of the Canadian West.

We look to see the forthcoming conference of prairie province Premiers agree upon some workable basis of action that will facilitate the operations of the Western Canada Colonization Association, one of other immigration agencies. The summer the twenty million acres of idle land near the rail works, now held out of production by more than eighty thousand individual speculators, is brought under the plow, the sooner will good times return, the burden of taxation be lightened and the National Railways achieve a self-supporting basis.

Remarkable Trip In Overland Car

Overland tours of 75,000 miles are not common among Canadian automobile owners but one was completed this month that took in territory from coast to coast, north as far as Edmonton and south to Lower California.

Mr. J. T. Peers, who was in business in Toronto for many years, undertook the trip chiefly for his health's sake and was accompanied by Mr. Roy M. Jones. After preliminary tours through Muskoka, Montreal and the Adirondacks to the Atlantic, they commenced their long trip by way of Chicago and St. Louis and then north again to Winnipeg. Crossing the Rockies through the Crown Pass, they visited Vancouver and proceeded to Los Angeles.

Sleeping in the car every night proved a wonderful tonic, and they thoroughly enjoyed the trip, which was not marred by a single accident. They were always able to obtain gasoline and neither mosquitoes nor deer proved an obstacle to their "90" Sedan. After several months in California, every district being visited, Mr. Peers and Mr. Jones returned by the New Mexico and Colorado route, averaging about 125 miles a day.

They brought back two monkeys, one an Australian Jay, the other a Philippines Ringtail, which were photographed on top of the car when driven up to the Toronto branch of the Willis Overland Company. The monkeys, Mr. Peers states are becoming accustomed to their new home very quickly.

Wind On The Stomach
Quickly Relieved

It is a good thing to know just what to do when gas belching starts. Our sufferer relates his experience. "A few months ago I ate some green vegetables and some fruits that was not quite right. I brought on indigestion, hiccups, nausea and cramps. I belched continually. A neighbor urged me to use 'Nervine', sweetened water, and got quick relief. I will never again be without this valuable remedy. It relieves household necessity. Large 50c bottles sold everywhere."

A Waste.
"I classified the strongest man I ever knew. He smoked his cigars to the last ball, chewed the stump and tossed his teeth with the ash. Even then he wasn't satisfied and stopped smoking."

THIN, WATERY BLOOD
MEANS ILL HEALTH

Rich, Red Blood Brings Bright Eyes and Rosy Cheeks.

The girl who returns home from school or from the office, pale and thin, will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because getting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood. It must not be regarded as if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale. She not only tires too easily but often suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and a host of ailments.

In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found to have a beneficial action on the blood. Miss Della Lefebvre, St. Ambrose, Man., writes: "I began to feel thin and advises others to use these pills. Since then I have gained weight and feel much better and I continued taking the pills until I felt as well as I did. For what they did in my case I cannot recommend these pills too highly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any druggist or ordered by mail at 20 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Germany's Oldest

Well Broken

Was Cast In 1471 and Weighed Eight Thousand Pounds.

Berlin has just learned that the largest bell in the cathedral was broken by the Hohenzollern family. It will never be heard again. The bell had one of the most beautiful tones of any bell in all Germany. It was cast in 1471 and weighed 4,000 pounds. It is six feet in diameter. It was placed by Frederick the Great in 1747 in the tower of a cathedral, which then stood in the Lustgarten, near the royal palace in Berlin. It was installed in the present cathedral when that structure was completed seven years ago.

Will Defeat Traffic to Canada.

The drastic immigration restrictions which have recently come into effect in the United States will, it is thought, have a natural sequel in the diversion of the superfluity from Canada. Authorities are also of the opinion that the right enforcement of the act will result in the transfer of some of the vessels of the New York trans-Atlantic fleet to the port of Montreal.

Manitoba Butter Production.

More than 8,000,000 pounds of butter were produced in Manitoba in 1920, according to L. A. Gibson, provincial dairy commissioner. Of this amount 1,200,000 pounds were exported.

Try Frozen
Desserts

BY LORETTA C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

As the warmer days come, the frozen desserts should find place upon the family table. Why don't you make them more often than they do? Simply because they believe that to make a freezer full of frozen strawberries is much more trouble than to make a lemon pie. But is it?

The freezers on the market are simple of construction and easily save their cost in the first few weeks of their use. A freezer making as little as a pint, may be obtained in the shops. A pint gives two or three portions.

For general use, one-third as much salt as ice is used. The salt must be the coarse salt sold for this special purpose. The ice should be placed in a stout canvas bag and crushed with a mallet until quite fine. Large sharp pieces of ice have been known to pierce the tin containing the material to be frozen.

A freezer should never be filled more than three-fourths full, for any mixture expands in freezing.

Now for recipes. A free-hand cook is really doing very few recipes. For instance, if you remember that a frozen dessert never tastes as sweet as it really is, you will know when you taste the mixture before it is frozen that it must taste unusually sweet to be "just right" when it is frozen. The simpler a dessert recipe is, the more lemon pie. To make this, prepare an unusually sweet lemonade. A little of the grated rind intensifies the flavor of the lemonade. Freeze and serve.

For orange pie, prepare a very sweet orange juice. Add a little orange rind, as well as part fruit ice. In fact, most every fruit ice contains part lemon juice. This prevents an otherwise insipid taste.

Frozen berries are prepared by adding one-half as much crushed and sweetened berries as you have sweet lemonade.

In freezing any ice it is not necessary to turn the handle continuously. Turn and then stop. When the handle begins to turn "hard," carefully remove the top of the can to prevent salty water from entering and spoiling the contents of the can, scrape off the dasher, if there is one, and replace the cover.

Put up the bowl of the can with cork or other device, add salt and to the pail and wrap a piece of carpet or heavy blanket over the can to prevent further melting. Allow the freezer to remain undisturbed for an hour or longer before serving, if convenient.

Get Together Results

Benefit Derived From the Accredited Herd Plan for Control of Tuberculosis in Cattle.

A few years ago the United States breeders of pure-bred cattle, recognizing the necessity of more effective measures for the control of tuberculosis, arranged a conference with officials of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, the result of which was the adoption of what is known as the Accredited Herd Plan, meaning that the herd had been thoroughly tested and found entirely free from any symptoms of tuberculosis. The plan proved so successful (over a thousand heads being accredited in a brief period) that a decision was arrived at to adopt the system in Canada. Regulations were promulgated which came into force in September, 1919, and have proved so far so successful, a number of herds having been accredited while many others are under test. There is now an agreement between Canada and the United States that cattle from accredited herds may enter either way, without detention or test.

Manitoba Farmer Now
So Strong He Can Put In Full Time at Work

"I was beginning to think I never would be myself again but Tanale has put me back in as good health as I ever enjoyed in my life," said John Brown, well-known farmer of Saint Clair, Manitoba.

"I had a bad stomach and it had been troubling me for the past two and a half years. My appetite was fairly good; that is, I could eat but it looked like everything turned into gas and brought on indigestion. Gas formed and would build me up into something awful. I slept poorly, lost weight and got so weak I couldn't half do my work on the farm."

"Well, I'm mighty glad Tanale came my way. I, before I finished my first bottle that it was doing me good and now I feel as strong and healthy as I used to be years ago. My stomach never gives me any more trouble and I eat three good courses a day like a hard working man ought to."

"I sleep fine, have picked up considerably in weight and can put in full time at work every day now. Tanale gets all the credit for my good health today. To my way of thinking there is not a medicine that can compare with it."

Tanale is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Harbor Cut Out
Of Solid Rock

Basin Has Area of Two and One-Half Acres.

There is a natural impression that all constructional engineering work of the ordinary kind in Great Britain has been completed during the war, but in point of fact it was found possible to keep quite a number of schemes going in spite of the concentration of effort upon drastic war work. A case in point is supplied by an extensive harbor improvement which has been in Great Britain a month or two before the war. The scheme included a new basin with an area of 2½ acres and 1,500 feet of new quays. All through the war the work proceeded steadily, if slowly. The most remarkable feature was that the basin was cut out of solid rock to give an average depth of 13 feet. The material excavated was ingeniously used to reclaim from the sea a considerable tract close to the harbor.

Much activity in building silos is reported by a Lethbridge firm, which has disposed of eighteen this year. It is estimated that between two hundred and four hundred silos will be erected in that district this summer.

Reflections on The Election

—John C. Buckley—

In electing Mr. John C. Buckley by a majority of 266, the exact figures being given in another page of this issue, the electors of Strathmore have definitely shown their sympathy with the ideals sponsored by the U.F.A. The Liberal champion, Mr. Harry Smith, is a very popular man personally and with other candidates the majority for Mr. Buckley would have been higher than it was.

The opposition of the new Government is now proceeding. Mr. Givenfield the premier elect, being in the process of selecting his cabinet.

The new government have an easy task before them. We are in the midst of an era of deflation. Unemployment is more general than it has been for ten years past, taxes are high, and prices of farm produce are at less than cost of production.

There is hope that the new government will be able to tackle these problems in a practical manner. Some of them it is not in their power to settle, as they are world-wide, but they may be able to alleviate them somewhat.

Farming is the basic industry of Alberta. If it is not paying its way the Province cannot be prosperous. The biggest problem that faces farmers of Alberta at present is to dispose of their products, especially livestock, at a profit. The new Government are all practical farmers and may be able to find some solution for the market troubles.

The late Government devoted itself to instructing the farmer in better agriculture, which is no doubt a good thing before giving him advice as to what to raise and how to raise it, the advice really wanted is to have to sell that which has been raised.

There has been too much of advising the farmer. During the past ten years we have been misled farming, livestock, sugarcane, etc. free planting irrigation, etc. put forward as panacea for irrigation conditions.

There is no lot to be made for all and the elements put forward are good but they do not get at the selling end. There is an advantage in raising only one kind of sell. Given the prospects of a market and the Alberta farmer will raise anything that is required within reason and any quantity.

We see the same thing happening just now. Hye is being put forward as a sure crop, and is boosted extensively. Farmers around here have been growing rye long enough to know that, but is there any assurance that if the rye is grown in quantity it can be sold at a stable figure.

The Western Colonization Company is at present engaged on a big scheme to drive people on Western Canada land, and are said to have a million-and-a-half dollars available for propaganda, but what is the use of settling some people on the land if these who are on it just now are apparently producing more than the world can absorb. If the Association would devote its energy and its money to secure better prices for farm produce they would promote settlement better than in any other way, for there will be no trouble in inducing immigration if the people at present living in the country are making good. Prosperity is the only effective propaganda.

Grand Prairie, Alberta.—Authentic news is received that the Imperial Oil Company has struck a flow of gas and oil at a depth of one hundred and eighty feet at Rollo, on the Ponre Coupe River, in the Peace River country. On a visit to the well oil was being forced into the well by gas and the bubbling could be heard at some distance away. Experts state that the hole from which the oil is being forced will be reached in less than thirty days probably at a depth of over hundred feet. Samples of the oil indicate it is of a very high grade.

formed in the most sanitary manner possible, every purchase of Strathmore Farm products on dining cars or in company hotels, may rest assured of highest quality from every standpoint. No cream supplied the C. P. R. dining cars and hotels by Strathmore Farm tests less than 25 per cent. B. F. and the average test of the milk shipped last year was 5.8 per cent. butter fat. The acidity is low, and the keeping qualities high.

Double owning the largest Holstein herd in the West, the Canadian Pacific is conducting much yearly testing work under Dominion Government supervision, and has made many extremely creditable official records. The visitors saw cows with Government supervised records and showing figures equal to or better than the average for the province of Alberta, records which mean that the cow that made them is worth a thousand dollars a year to the owner.

They saw "Ruth DeKol," who gave 23,882 lbs. milk, which made 437.75 lbs. butter. This was an big record represented in the line led out for the visitors to inspect. Others were Lassie DeKol Kondyke with the official record of 23,397 lbs. milk, and 476.25 lbs. butter; Beauty Lass, with 20,759 lbs. milk and 415 lbs. butter; Frances McChibbly, Weyne, who gave as a three year old 16,521 lbs. milk, and 436.25 lbs. butter.

There was also a son of Testaine Weyhale who stood sixth in the Dominion with a two year old record of 34,723 lbs. milk and 691 lbs. butter.

The condition of these cows reflected great care. They were in show condition and looked to be making a good point over next or feed.

—S. Wetters—

Another sight of interest was the irrigation of a crop of alfalfa. This new crop has been more extensively tested at this farm than at any other point in the West, and has been highly recommended by many stock men. G. H. Hutton, Superintendent of Agriculture and Animal Industry of the Department of Natural Resources under whose charge all of the farming and livestock operations of the C. P. R. in the West are carried on, is a strong advocate of this method of silage crops, as a means of reducing cost of production of hay and milk in Western Canada. Twenty-five thousand cords of a tonnage of silage on this subject have been sent out, and much interest is shown in silage crop in the West this year.

Visitors also saw baby beef, specially fed and finished for the hotel trade. These cattle were but one year old and weighed around 300 lbs. live weight and are dressing out over 100 per cent. high class beef.

All departments of the farm bear evidence of efficient management and the entire plant looks like a healthy, growing concern.

Camping and Comfort.

—O—

All the comforts of camping, with none of the drawbacks of having to prepare meals, etc., can be enjoyed during a visit to one of the Canadian Pacific Camps located on Lake Wapiti (Hector station near Lake Louise) or Lake Windermere, B.C.

There appears to be some misapprehension as to these camps for they do not consist of tents, but of log and rustic cabins for sleeping quarters, with a central club house containing combination dining and living room and necessary kitchen facilities.

There is accommodation in each Camp for fifty people and the locations are ideal for anyone wishing to enjoy a quiet holiday in the great outdoors, where hiking, riding, fishing, boating, etc., can be indulged in to the heart's desire.

Victoria, B.C.—The gold production of British Columbia for the current year will exceed that of 1929. The Rossland Mines, which yielded gold to the value of about $200,000 last year, will have an output this year of about $1,500,000. The next largest producer will be the Stuart Mine, on Princess Royal Island, with a production of about $1,000,000.

Vancouver, B.C.—Thousands of gallons of ice cream are being shipped every month from this port to China, the frozen dairy being forwarded in specially constructed containers holding about 500 gallons each. This fact was brought out in the course of an investigation to discover whether the production etc. had any effect on the sale of ice cream and soft drinks.

Clitherope, B.C.—A projected mill, factory is to be shortly erected here by the Dairy Products Company Ltd. The new plant will have a capacity of 5000 pounds of fluid milk per day, and will be a heavy mill frame construction, costing approximately $20,000. The process, while new in Canada, has been perfected and made commercially successful in a plant in the eastern States, that is already in operation but only on a small scale.

Ottawa, Ont.—Approximately one million dollars worth of flaxseed was exported from Canada to Ireland during 1929, according to a statement issued by the Department of Agriculture. Buyers of Canadian seed were the United States, Great Britain, France, and Newfoundland. Seed laboratories are now maintained by the Department at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Calgary, and at these points some 25,000 tests were carried out during the year.

British Admiralty Pursues A Courageous Policy Of Most Rigid Economy

Great Britain is building four new battleships and orders for these have already been placed. It will be recalled that these new ships were included in the naval estimates, announced some little time ago, and are to replace those of an obsolescent type. Three years will be necessary to make the ships ready for sea and the approximate cost of each ship will run to $90,000. In this announcement there is nothing to cause undue excitement, it being merely the sequence of a well-considered Admiralty scheme, which does not in any way involve a rise in armaments, a lamentable situation is available. The number of battleships under the jurisdiction of the three leading naval powers, representing their position in the present year and what it will be in the year 1924, estimates, that the four new British battleships are completed by that time. It reads:

United States	1921	12
Great Britain	1921	32
Japan	1921	11

It should not be forgotten that naval power consists as much in the number of ships, and in this connection it will be recalled that when Mr. Walter Long was First Sea Lord last year, he stated that the establishment of the British fleet should be 127,500, including officers and men. So far as ships are concerned, the Admiralty has pursued a courageous policy of rigid economy since the close of the late war. Of the vessels which were ordered by the Admiralty in the year of the armistice many hundreds were scrapped, and following that, the Admiralty sent to the ship-breakers' yards almost a couple of hundred completed vessels, embracing many classes of battleships, all considered more or less obsolete.

In the past Great Britain maintained a two-power standard and afterwards built to maintain a first position, superiority over Germany, whereas now a one-power fleet is all that is aimed at. The British Admiralty, by its moderation in the number of ships, is in complete accordance with the new ideas embodied in the League of Nations.

The Change in Manners

Boston Reporter Deplores the Modern Trend in Slip Show Manners.

Boston's most distinguished octogenarian, President Emeritus Max W. Elliot, of Harvard, is distressed at the manners of men and women. He says that he has watched young women and "fads" in the last few years, and their habits have changed tremendously since he was a young man. He says that young men and women do things that he would have been "simply out of the question" when he was young man. He says the girls expect to be treated as equals. He says that young men and women are coarse even in their greetings and farewells movements. He admits that "an old-fashioned person like me" may misjudge youngsters of today, and he tries to hope that the change of manners is for the better.

Dr. Elliot's remarks were made in an address to the Society of Harvard Dances in Cambridge, the other day, and were printed in the Harvard Alumni Bulletin.

Beaver Farm in Alberta

One of the Largest Beaver Farms in the West on Ribstone Creek, Near Edgerton.

F. F. Parkinson, who has a farm two miles east of Edgerton on the Ribstone Creek, has probably one of the largest beaver farms in Western Canada, says the Edmonton Bulletin. Although beavers have become almost extinct in the west, under government protection during the past five or six years they have multiplied in the Ribstone Creek very rapidly and at the present time in parts of the stream where conditions are suitable they thrive in large numbers. The Ribstone Creek runs through a part of Mr. Parkinson's farm for a distance of nearly a mile. The creek, which is only from twenty to thirty feet wide is bordered for the most part with poplar and willow which furnish a supply of food, and good for building their dams, as well as a protection. In this section of the stream it is estimated that there are several dozen beavers. Occasionally a beaver is seen at work, but it is impossible to determine the number, because of the trees being cut down and used for food and the dams built.

The beavers are kept from moving down the stream by means of a dam of wire, built below and above the section of the stream which they inhabit. Mr. Parkinson intends to build a fence along both sides of the stream as well.

Beavers have been under government protection since 1906. In the last few years, but special arrangements have been made in the case of beaver farms where the furs are sold through the provincial game warden by tender, twenty-five per cent. of the sale price being retained by the government. The stream on the Ribstone Creek is farming lands favorably with any other line of fur farming. They more than double in number every year and on an average the furs will bring $80 per year. This year, owing to the low prices of all furs the price is somewhat lower.

Alberta's Population

Is Placed at 620,000 by Provincial Statistics Branch.

Alberta's population is put at 620,000 by the provincial vital statistics branch. That figure has been made up on the basis of the births and deaths during the year 1920, the official report of which has just been issued. Births in the province in 1920 numbered 18,636, a net decrease of 2,445 over those of 1919. The record for any one year had previously been held by 1918, when the number was beyond that recorded by 1925. The birthrate per thousand of population was 27.2.

Edmonton and Calgary ran almost neck and neck in the birth race with 2,330 and 2,260, respectively. Child born in the city of Edmonton, the most in both cities, and particularly in Edmonton, where the figures were 1,099, British, and 727 Canadian. In Edmonton, there were 902 of British stock and 816 Canadian.

The Glacial Period

Life of Glacial Age is a Puzzle to the Scientists.

When did the Glacial Period end? Was it an American scientist pertinently asks, when the ice began to disappear, or had it disappeared, or had it entirely disappeared? asks Amers.

If the last mentioned, then we are still in the Ice Age, for Europe has its glaciers, and so has Labrador, the Rockies, Alaska and islands in the Arctic regions, and as every school boy is aware, Greenland is nearly covered with an ice cap.

Can the question be settled by a reference to climate? If that is the case, the Glacial Period ended, for the climate of the beginning of the Ice Age, in fact, is not so cold, temperate climate.

Probably the period is best settled by making the Glacial Period a progressive event, according to the evidence in one region perhaps thousands of years before it ends in another.

Without doubt, this far-off epoch of thick-ribbed ice constitutes one of the great mysteries of the world's history. It is absolutely belied on a momentary basis.

It is thought it is generally believed that there was more than one Ice Age, no one can say with any degree of certainty whether there were three, four, or six, or a dozen, for the matter of that.

And the most curious of all mysteries connected with one or any of these icy periods is what was the cause of them. Both geologists and astronomers have, so far, been unable to solve that problem. It is not yet even agreed as to what extent the ice-cap covered the globe.

My First Dog Driving

By O.G.E.-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

I received orders in January of the year 1924 to start west with the Winter Packet of the Hudson's Bay Company, and I had purchased a nice team of young dogs with light carriages from a clerk who came in from Swan River. The packet man was a famous traveler and known far and wide as one of the best long distance runners in the northwest. Poor Johnny Brandy, like so many others, he did not stand civilization and went to his long home a year or so ago. I had been a year in the Fort Garry sale shop and hated the confinement, and had made application on several occasions to be sent inland (as all the area outside the Red River settlement was called in those days), but the matter dragged, and at last, on threatening to resign, I found my way. So the long-looked-for time had come at last, and I was really off for the unknown interior next day.

It was a great night, I slept having mighty dreams of great prize stretches covered with buffalo, huge quantities of huge furs, and great takes as big as inland sea, and above all, thousands of really wild Indians. The morning came at last and with delays in the office, closing up important dispatches, it was after an early start, and I was off. I paid nothing, good-bye to all my friends, and received a hearty hand clasp from Chief Joseph, and a word from Mr. McTavish. He was at that time the unwelcome king of Fort Garry and was one of the best chiefs I ever had. His last words to me were: "If you don't like it in the north there is always a place for you here."

Johnny called "March!" and away went. His dogs were a fearsome sight and very savage. They were called Brandy, Grog, Rum and Whisky. They were all from the plains, were used to travel, and were as big as large timber wolves, with split ears, and were grey and white in color. Both my young dogs and myself treated them with the utmost respect—a distance—and they evidently had a contempt for us as green horns. He was loaded entirely with mail matter and, of course, dog food and provisions on top of this. My only bedding was a single heavy box of carefully made up of the thinnest and lightest wood and the H. B. Co. white blanket. The packet was to take them to Fort Carlton on the North Branch of the Saskatchewan. It was a distance of between five and six hundred miles, with many a long stretch of plain and little water and there. Other packet carriers met me at Carlton, and on went the great Northern Packet, only reaching some of the furthest points on the coast. The greatest care was always taken of the precious mail matter.

My young train followed close behind his sleigh, and I noted Johnny studying my dog's gait from time to time. The first stop made was at the village of La Plante, where Mr. Chisholm was hospitable as usual, in fact, too much so, as it was getting late before we pulled out for Fortage. Just as we were hitching up, Johnny, who by the way started badly, said "oh boy, your Heralds (my forelegs) handle too hard in front, so I will put him in the middle of my team and give you Bubba-Brandy ahead." Well, I was green and knew no better, so he very quickly made the exchange, threw himself on his hind and was off like a flash. When I called, "March!" the dog sat down on the road and eyed me with a wicked look. I took a step forward and shook my head, and in reply was to advance in the direction growing savagely, so I retreated. Well, I was in a quandary. I rode along, looking in and asking for Chisholm's assistance. Suddenly I noted the fever, and taking a good look at the big man, I saw that he was like a raging wolf. Well, after a long break, the guide called at all hands between three and four in the morning, and I saw that he was away we went, the bourgeois at the end of my sleigh, and I was in a poor sleep in his car, while my poor bourgeois trotted along. There was no sleep in my bed, but, hey, how cold, and our stomachs were fairly grinding for something to eat. In my mind, I was thinking of the unusual exertions of the day previous. I also had a sharp pain in one leg. Well, daylight never came. Talk about a cold, mine was like a raging wolf. A hailstorm shortly after noon on Monday, swept through a section of country north-east of Strathmore. It apparently came in from the north-west and struck at Chris Hagan's. It then swept through the Hanna Colony, passing several miles east of Namska. Up till Tuesday noon 12 claims had been sent in to the Secy of Bow Valley Municipality, and several more were expected in.

Conditions otherwise are better than was looked for some time ago, and there will be a fairly good yield over the district as a whole. Caring has now commenced and will be general by the end of the week. Heavy rains fell last week.

Edmonton, Man.—Prospects are excellent for a record grain crop and it is expected that the yield will be as heavy as any yet harvested. The average is twenty per cent greater than any previous year. Within twenty miles of Edmonton there are three thousand acres of potatoes in bloom.

Edmonton, Alta.—The value of Alberta's fish production in 1910 was $233,230, the principal product being whitefish. The sum of $78,000 was invested in equipment and $21,002 in boats, while the number of persons employed was 1,062. Practically all of the fishing is done in the northern lakes. Great Slave and Lac la Biche are the two biggest producers.
